

Celebrating 25 Years!

After having to reschedule our golf tournament because of weather, June 12th could not have been a more beautiful day for the 137 golfers who came out to support the Foundation's 25th Anniversary Invitational Golf Tournament. This tournament is the second longest running tournament in Dutchess County and raised an all time high level of over $46,000 this year.

This year's guest speakers were the moms of our Angelo Boulevard house who gave a wonderfully heartfelt talk— and we thank them for their kind words.

A Note From the Executive Director....

The Legacy of Lucian Green: “If I can do it, anyone can do it” by Regis Obijiski

Our friend and colleague, Lucian Green, passed away on June 6th. Although he left us too soon, he gave us a rich legacy in mission clarity. He knew who he was, he knew what he stood for, and he spent a career enabling others to realize their potential. Working directly for individuals with developmental disabilities at New Horizons for 19 years, Lucian lived deliberately and taught the rest of us by his example to examine our intentions and live with integrity.

At the passing of people dear to me, I am inevitably compelled to reflect on the truth that who you are is far more important than what you have done. The true legacy is never the résumé. Who was this man? Gentle, Strong of character, humble, honorable, respectful, supportive of others, assertive, determined, intelligent, soft-spoken, passionate, competent, trustworthy, credible, fair, loving.... After the memorial service, one of his sisters said to me with tears of joy that she was so gratified that that others besides members of his family truly understood and appreciated Lucian the way they did for 60 years. The person with integrity is the same person with everyone. Paraphrasing Ghandi: you are not honest, if you are honest only most of the time.

At New Horizons, Lucian provided direct support services, advocated effectively for people with disabilities, administered supervisory oversight, presented instruction classes for new staff in the organization, exercised formal investigations across the agency when necessary, and delivered seminars at regional and statewide conferences.

Always seeking to improve his own performance, he knew instinctively that the best student is a teacher. During the last decade of his life—all during his fifties—he attended classes at Dutchess Community College and SUNY New Paltz. He was only two months away from being awarded his Bachelors degree. One of his instructors at SUNY stated: “Lucian was my student, and he was my very wise teacher.”

Applying for a scholarship two years ago, he asked me to write a letter of reference on his behalf. Joking, I asked him why he deserved this scholarship and he replied: “I don’t deserve it more than anyone else, but the message for others is that if I can do it, anyone can do it.” Lucian led from behind, like all effective leaders do. He inspired others more by what he did than by what he said.

others more by what he did than by what he said. He embodied our commonality and gently motivated those around him toward personal and professional improvement and even greatness—“If I can do it, anyone can do it.”

Lucian Green’s gift to us is a life well-lived. He was a highly principled professional who strove to do the right thing for the right reason. He earned the respect and affection of his colleagues, those whom he served at New Horizons and many in the general community. We miss him but his spirit remains within reach.

“Lucian was an easygoing man who took his job seriously ... He was always willing to listen, give good advice, and go that extra mile. He was not only my supervisor but a teacher, a mentor, and a very good friend—a man with integrity.”

John Leblanc

“Lucian never judged anyone.. The one thing he taught me that I will always remember is this: “We are all born with disabilities but the people that we serve just have challenges.”

Nikki Thomison

“He had such a way of deflecting what might have turned into an argument—it was an art for him, to be able to bring someone back to a sense of peace.”

Jean Tansey

“Even after working with Lucian for 20 years, we knew so little about him personally—that really speaks to his professionalism. The work really wasn’t about him; the focus was entirely on the people we serve. He will kindle a few fires in others.”

Tom McCluskey

“In the 15 years I knew him, I never heard him say a bad word about anybody. Lucian was a very kind man, he wasn’t afraid to try a new approach. He had such a closeness with the men at Overlook. He is going to be remembered for his sense of humor.”

Jeanne Georgiou

“He was always somebody I could reach out to, both as a supervisor and as a friend. He was a peacemaker. Even though he was my supervisor, Lucian was more like a brother to me.”

Judy Baker

“He was very wise. He had so much experience and he never had a problem sharing to help you be the best you can be.”

Neil Green

“We in the Finance department saw Lucian fairly regularly. As a details person, I loved Lucian’s wardrobe – he assembled the most color-coordinated ensembles I’ve ever seen. I always enjoyed my conversations with Lucian and the wry humor and understanding that infused his stories.”

Carol Engler

“He really respected the concept of family—he really valued staying connected. Lucian demonstrated this throughout his life – both personally and with the guys at Overlook.”

Beverly Kaufman

“Lucian was outstandingly smart, balanced, and dependable—a great guy. He explained himself well and even if he disagreed with you, he wouldn’t make you feel small.”

Raymond Njunge

“I had the opportunity to interview Lucian for a school project. He was very quiet but at the same time he was a powerhouse of knowledge.

He spoke very deliberately, putting a lot of thought into each word he said. He had a passion for what he did and a compassion for the people he served. One quote from him that I will always remember is “Change is a journey, not a blueprint, it is loaded with uncertainty.”

ON THE MOVE!

Moving Day by Mike Wheatley

It was a historic day on April 25, 2008 as the first of the NHR Wassaic houses came to a close. Bittersweet as it was, the men at Orchard enjoyed the day moving into their new home in Stormville. The day was mostly joyous, as it marked a new beginning in the lives of the gentlemen. But it was also a bit on the sad side as we said goodbye to a home that we have known for almost 30 years.

The day began with a nice breakfast at Orchard. All the guys stayed home from their respective day programs, and enjoyed a 3 day weekend as a result. After breakfast, we all got to work packing up the rest of the “stuff” we needed to bring with us. Once we were loaded up, it was time to go. Arriving at the new house, the guys were all excited to see how their rooms were set up, complete with new beds, dressers, and the like. Chris B. was excited that he finally had a Yankees-themed room and Charlie was happy to see his new stereo set up. Chris S. became reacquainted with his recliner chair — he had been moved out of his room at Orchard due to health reasons 2 months earlier and therefore hadn’t been able to sit in it for awhile. After looking at their new rooms, the guys were anxious to get busy unpacking boxes and putting their things away. All in all it was a happy day. Before dinner, the guys enjoyed a visit from Regis, who stopped by to welcome them into their new home. The first dinner was filled with conversation about what things they can do here at the new house and their excitement about being here. The day was capped off with a good night’s sleep in their new full size beds.

On behalf of Chris S, Chris B, Charlie, Wally, and Jamie, I would like to thank Jayne, Mae, Tim, Anthony, Lynn, Julie, and Julie’s daughter, Cecilia, for all their help in making this day a smooth transition for all. I would also like to offer a bit of advice to the remaining Sinpatch houses: when you are packing up, and moving out, keep in mind that this day will be a tremendous one for your people as well. When you consider that Spruce, Riverview and Heritage have been the only home your ladies have known for the better part of 30 years, it will do them some good to take some memories with them. As I stated before, this is history. We were the first of the Dutchess houses to open, and soon Sinpatch Road will be just a memory. It is sometimes hard for us to know what is on the minds of the people we serve, but as for me, I have spent the good part of 20 years there, and I know that I will miss it. ‘Nuff said!

Thornwood Opens! By Bill Beattie

Marie Cain’s eyes were bigger than flying saucers and her smile just as large when she proudly toured her spacious new bedroom with all of her personal belongings having safely made the trip from her old home. Carol grabbed Regis and persuaded him to unpack all her clothing and fill her huge new closet. Carol was just fine, though Regis was exhausted. Marie, along with housemates Carol LaRose, Tina Betz, Pearl Dennis and Marie O’Brien moved into Thornwood IRA on 5/30. They all expressed their contentment with their new home and new day programs. Apart from Regis and I, the ladies at Thornwood have already had visitors from Angelo Boulevard and are looking forward to more visitors soon. An open house will be scheduled in the near future, but please feel free to visit sooner (call first!).

A big thank you is owed to all of the staff of Thornwood, the maintenance department and all agency support staff for their fine work in getting this new home ready for the ladies. An extra special thanks is owed to Jayne Violon, Mae Smith, Andrea Pollack, and Stella

Summer Camp...an intern's perspective

By Elizabeth Jones

From June 30th to July 3rd New Horizons ran a summer camp for 10 children with developmental disabilities. We started the week on Monday with horseback riding. It was incredible to see each child's face light up as they sat atop the horse and told it to "ride on". I was amazed that kids who had been unable to sit still all day were so still and calm up on the horse. The peaceful composure sure didn't last long though. The week flew by in a flurry of activities; we ran around in bouncy castles, went to parks, to arcades, swimming, to the zoo, to a children's museum, and ate lots of good food. Each activity was incredibly high energy and exciting and because we did so many diverse things, there was at least one activity for every child that was hard to drag them away from. Maya couldn't stop petting the horses, Kayla loved splashing around (and splashing others) in the lake, Bee Bee made a great DJ at the radio station at the kids museum, and Malachi ran around like a madman from ride to ride at the arcade. Each morning when parents brought their kids in to summer camp they told the staff how much they knew their child was enjoying camp. They told us how excited they were to see their friends in the morning and how great their behavior was at night after having been exhausted from running around all day.

If they thought their kids were exhausted then they should have seen me every night. I think that the week of summer camp may have been some of the best four nights of sleep I have ever had. I have worked here at New Horizons for a little over two months as a summer intern. Normally I help out at day-hab at Briggs farm every morning and then work at West Road in the afternoons, so kids camp was definitely a new experience for me. Although I will admit that the camp was exhausting and overwhelming at first, in the end I feel blessed to have had the opportunity to participate in it. I enjoyed each high energy and unpredictably exciting activity, but the most rewarding part by far was getting to know such incredible kids. Though the majority of the children attending the camp were nonverbal, low functioning, and had obvious behavior issues, by the end of the week it was easy for me to recognize what distinct and great personalities each child had. I am grateful to have been able to participate in a camp that provides kids with disabilities the opportunity to do such fun activities with each other out in the community, something I know to be vitally important especially now that schools are out for the summer. So far my experience at New Horizons has been absolutely incredible and summer camp was a great chance to become more familiar with another service the agency provides for people with developmental disabilities.
